

A Symphony From Heaven

A Symphony From Heaven is a collection of poems that speak to the whole-man. Your spirit will be stirred by the poetry and scripture references and your mind and emotions will relate to the commentary that gives insight into the poems and the authors love affair with God. As you read each poem you are gifted with glimpses of conversation between the author and the Holy Spirit that inspire and invite you to experience the same type of relationship. The refreshingly pure deliverance of each poem catches the readers attention, giving them pause in their daily routine and causes them to give into the peace that surrounds them with each written line. The knowledge shared by the author is given throughout the commentary coupled with questions meant to provoke meditation on ones own relationship with God. There is one message that reverberates throughout the book. God wants a deeper and more intimate relationship with his children. Some of the 50 poems that fill this book may bring tears to your eyes, others, the smarting of conviction and still some others, inspiration and the encouragement that comes from the conveyance of His grace and mercy, but not one duplicates the other or sounds redundant. They only speak one true message of the love of a Father for His children.
