

THE LONELY WALK-A Zombie Notebook

He and his family are sequestered in their home by curfew law, but the newborn baby needs milk. Milk, like many other supplies, is delivered by the military, but the deliveries are undependable. He has to get out of the house, though it means he will risk getting caught by a horde of the dead and become infected. But this man won't let his baby die and his wife go insane. If he never comes back, at least he tried... He picks up a notebook once outside and separated from his family, his home. What he writes in it will be his last words... A novella of the dead by the author of BANISHED and the Edgar Award nominated NIGHT CRUISING.
